

Recommendations

- The present study can be conducted among males in the future
- This software can be developed into applications and can be used by the public
- This software can be translated to regional languages for efficient use by the community
- Testing of hypoglycemic effect of the selected medicinal plants period can be extended for 6 months