

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I would like to express my profound gratitude to the supreme power, without his blessings and grace the successful completion of this journey would not be possible.

I see it as my ultimatum duty to thank Dr. (Thiru). T. S. Avinashilingam Ayya Avrl., (Founder and First Chancellor) and Hon. Colonel Padmashree Dr. Rajammal P. Devadas, (Former Chancellor), Avinashilingam Institute for Home Science and Higher Education for Women, Coimbatore, who were the foundation and crown of this great institution 'Saradalaya'. Their intense vision in empowering women through education has made impetus mark many students like me, for which and others, I will always be immensely thankful.

I would like to place my humble gratitude to Dr. T. S. K. Meenakshi Sundaram, Chancellor, Avinashilingam Institute for Home Science and Higher Education for Women, Coimbatore, for the opportunity, support and infrastructure facilities provided for the conduct of research work.

I place my sincere thanks to Dr. Saroja Prabhakaran, Former Vice Chancellor, Avinashilingam University for Women, for her blessings, love, support, encouragement and providing necessary facilities during her period of administration.

With a great zeal of admiration and respect, I am extremely delighted to place my sincere gratitude to Dr. Sheela Ramachandran, Vice Chancellor, Avinashilingam University for Women, for all her innovative ideas, constant efforts in increasing the standards research and exposure to various lectures through research conventions, expanding university on and offline resources, scrutinizing research activities, regular motivation and for every new path laid that helped scholars like me to improve oneself.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Gowri Ramakrishnan, Former Registrar, and Dr. A. Venmathi, Registrar (in charge), Avinashilingam Institute for Home Science and Higher Education for Women, Coimbatore, for their support and help rendered during this doctoral work.

I acknowledge and thank Dr. G. P. Jayanthi, Controller of Examination, Avinashilingam Institute for Home Science and Higher Education for Women, Coimbatore, for her help, support and guidance in registration to submission of synopsis and thesis.

I deem it my utmost responsibility to place my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Santhanakrishnan, Director, Research and Consultancy for his critical reviews, suggestions, timely assistance and support rendered at all times, that helped in fine tuning my research ideas.

I would like to sincerely acknowledge the support and funding given [IF10560/2010-14] by the President of India through the Department of Science and Technology under the Assured Opportunity for Research Scholars – (AORC) / INSPIRE fellowship for pursuing my doctoral work from 2010-2014.

I place earnest thanks to Dr. G. Krishna Bai, Former Dean of Home Science and Head, Department of Textiles and Clothing, Avinashilingam University for Women, for her love, guidance, support, motivation, encouragement and cooperation, enabling me to function effectively.

It is with great sense of respect and esteem; I place my very profound and heartfelt gratefulness to my Prof. (Dr.) N. Vaasugi Raaja, Dean of Home Science, Head, Department of Textiles and Clothing, for all the vital inputs, criticism and directional guidance showed at each level of work. Her words of encouragement and suggestions helped me improvise myself as an individual and scholar. I wish to place my earnest thanks for the advice, help and support provided in every possible way to help me complete the work.

I am beholden to my teacher Prof. (Dr.) S. Amsamani, for two major reasons: one, the independence I had in experimenting with my research interests and secondly, her immense patience and understanding, in every critical situation. Being as a live source of inspiration, she had set a fire, and kindled that, every time the flame went down. As her scholar, I had the opportunity to see world much ahead, like a journey on the shoulder of a giant. As quoted by Bruce Lee, “A teacher is never a giver of truth – she is a guide, pointer to the truth that each student must find for himself. A good teacher is merely a catalyst”: She was one such teacher in my life. I owe her my humble gratitude for all the experience she made me go through and reform myself.

I would fail in my duty if I don't mention the help, understanding, guidance, support and love from 'each' of my teachers, faculty members and dear students in this University for all their support and unconditional love rendered throughout this doctoral life.

I am very grateful to all the help given in the Finance Section through Finance Officer, Asst. Finance officers, Mrs. Banu and Mr. Jaganathan in directional supervision and distribution of funds on time.

Based on the writing of Mr. Parthiban in his article entitled 'Bio-Technology In Textile Industry' I conceived the idea of bio-managing textile waste into a compost, which led to my masters degree area to experiment. As the work went intense in my doctoral work, I had the opportunity to have an interview with Emeritus Scientist R. H. Balasubramanya, Central Institute of Research on Cotton Technology, Mumbai, who was the first person, with his team to work on willow waste and on commercialization of the concept.

I am very much indebted to

Mr. Vasantha kumar (Vermicomposting Expert, H5 Organics, Coimbatore) for his motivation and guidance throughout the research

Dr. Maheshwari, Asst. Prof, Department of Environmental Sciences, for help rendered in testing manure and vermicompost samples

Dr. Sivasubramaniyan, Asst. Professor, Department of Environmental Sciences and Asst. Controller of Examinations, TNAU for his directions, continuous assistance, reviews and guidelines that greatly helped in every step of bio-manure production and field study of cotton.

Dr. Ravikesavan, Asst. Professor Department of Cotton, Central Institute for Cotton Research, Coimbatore, who encouraged and supported the work

Dr. Venkatakrishnan, Head, Central Institute of Research on Cotton technology, for his understanding, encouragement and help during the cotton fiber analysis and statistical interpretation.

Dr. Sankaran, Former Head, TIFAC-CORE, Kumaraguru College of Technology, for his thought provoking criticism that helped me explore deeper. It was his vital inputs that refined the concept of briquette and wipes for which I am indebted greatly

The famer, Mr. O.M. Palanisami and his family members (Vaathiyar Thotam, Kurukanmbalayam, Annur) for all the help and love showered during the course of cotton field study in their farm. Without their understanding and assistance the study would be feasible.

I am extremely grateful to Mr. Jayabalan, Managing Director, Universal Hydraulics, Ganapathy (Coimbatore) for his immense support, teaching on concepts and sharing his most valuable time and suggestions in the process of briquetting willow waste. My thanks are due to Mr. Mahendran, Asst. professor, Department of Bio-energy, TNAU and Department of Chemistry, PSG College of Technology, for the vital support in conducting the tests for briquettes in their laboratory.

I place my earnest thanks to Mr. Mani, Managing Director, Jyothi Speciality papers, (KVIC accredited for Eco-certification) , Erode, for the help rendered in production of handmade paper from willow dust in their unit. I also place my heartfelt thanks to Aranya and Athulya (A group of TATA), Munnar, Kerala, for permitting and getting trained on handmade paper making, value addition and natural dyeing on willow waste handmade paper.

I would fail in my duty if I do not credit the assistance and timely help rendered by Dr. Sakthivel, Head, COE for Medical textiles, for testing the wipes for cleansing action.

I also acknowledge the aid and support given by Technical textiles laboratory, Kumaraguru College of Technology, Coimbatore, for the production and testing of composites.

I would like to thank the head and staffs of the libraries CIRCOT, (Mumbai), SITRA and SIMA, Coimbatore for the help rendered in Data collection.

I also place my love and thanks for my best buddy Amsaveni to have always been there in tough and light times through her love, patience and unwavering belief on me. I extend respect and deepest thanks to my senior Reshmi gangadharan for her efforts in proof reading and assistance given in the last few weeks of submission. There is definitely a special mention for my dear friends Amsaveni, Aruna, Hemalalitha and Rubia Juliet for their timely help in due submission of synopsis and thesis. I will forever be indebted for their love and support.

Last but never the least, indefinable love and gratitude to MY FAMILY without the support, understanding and help, this doctoral work is definitely not possible.

It all begins with the gesture, understanding, patience and sacrifice for my Dear Husband Ramesh Chelliah, who was the sole reason for the completion and accolades I experienced in this journey. He was the biggest source of inspiration to accept challenges and march ahead to complete this. My love and daughter, Dheekshanya, deserves a special mention for the understanding and confidence through her sparkling eyes and touch, to move ahead against all hurdles. I have no words and can never thank enough my in laws for permitting me pursue my passion and understand and be a huge support in all walks of life.

This is not possible without the love and support rendered so unconditionally, by my MOTHER, who was so supportive without whom, this would be a life-time dream for me. Her love, sacrifice has made me what I am today! This is incomplete without a special mention of my dearest father, dear sister and her family who have been a huge source of inspiration, support and for all the love and trust, I feel truly blessed!

Last but not the least, I deeply acknowledge the tremendous efforts put by Shami, day and night in helping me understand and document the thesis amidst her own busy schedule. She was the greatest source of inspiration and support, without whom, Ph. D registration to this completion of this book is not possible. I owe this to you dear!
